McKinney Joins With The Nation In Observance Of Armistice Day

McKinney citizens observed their first war time Armistice in history Wednesday, with business houses closed. Business was at a standstill, with most McKinney citizens quietly observing the day.

Members of the Company D, Texas Defense Guard, and the women's unit, left early Wednesday morning for Sherman for a drill and parade in that city, where several companies of North Texas Guard Units went Wednesday for the program.

The City Hall was closed for the day, with the exception of the law enforcement agencies and the short wave radio station, giving all city workers a holiday.

Due to the war, the McKinney Post Office and others throughout the country remained open, according to Postmaster Don O. Davis, who says that dispatching and receiving mail continued as usual and the city deliveries made. No rural deliveries were made.

Gasoline Rationing Postponed In Collin County, Say Officials

Registration Is Delayed One Week, But New Enforcement Date Is Unknown.

Registration for basic gasoline rationing books has been postponed one week in Collin County and elsewhere throughout the State, Elton Riggs, Chairman of the Collin County War Price and Rationing Board, said. Whereas the original dates for the registration were Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, November 12, 13, and 14, the new dates for the registration will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, November 19, 20 and 21.

Actual rationing will begin December 1.

Mark McGee, of Fort Worth, State O. P. A. director, said that the postponement of the registration is necessary because it will be a big job and all the boards don't have all the ration books and necessary supplies.

Mr. Riggs said he received a large quantity of supplies only Tuesday afternoon.

Registration for gasoline books will be in schools throughout the country, and in McKinney the registration will be in the Boyd High School from 8:30 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon the last three days of next week. According to Prof. Earl Slaughter, Principal, it is possible that one night of registration will be held.

School officials will try to have sufficient help to carry on the work efficiently and in a speedy manner, with teachers and outside help assisting. Prof. Earl Y. Wolford and his Commercial Department will play a prominent part in the McKinney registration.

Prof. Slaughter urges motorists to get the forms and have their 1942 registration papers filled out in advance. They must have at hand the serial numbers of their tires. Those who intend to apply for more than the customary "A" books, which all motorists will receive, will find blanks at the schools, which they will fill out and present to the board dealing with the rationing of gasoline. Only basic A. and B. books, for cars and motorcycles, will be available for motorists when they register at the schools.

Motorists are urged to dispose o fall excess tires over the five allotted them before they apply for ration books. They are allowed the four tires on their car, a spare and any tire on the wheels of a trailer. They will be asked to sign a statement that they have no additional tires.

With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right.—Abraham Lincoln.

PROGRESS IN EGYPT.

The new westward drive of the United Nations has successfuly gone through Rommel's mine fields and artillery defenses and engaged his main tank army, says the Dallas News. Reports thus far indicate that many German tanks have been destroyed, other tanks trapped and a large number of German and Italian prisoners taken. While it is still much too early to predict the outcome of this campaign, especially in view of the uncertainties of desert warfare, the outlook thus far is favorable to the United Nations.

The Allies appear to be better organized and better equipped than in either of the two earlier drives made from Egypt, while Allied superiority in the air is more marked than ever. It appears likely that Mussolini will have to postpone indefinitely his plans for a triumphal entry into Cairo. More than that, the danger to the axis in Africa may be such that it will draw planes from the Russian front and prevent any thrust through Turkey or Syria.

Success of the United Nations in destroying the axis forces in North Africa would drive Hitler back into his European fortress and put him definitely on the defensive. His blitzkrieg days would be over, and the time would be ripe to attempt a large-scale Allied invasion. Knowing this, Hitler probably will do his utmost to reinforce Rommel. But his might has been seriously weakened by Russia, and there is hope that the third Allied offensive in Africa will gain and hold its objectives.

BALKAN SNAGS.

Hitler's politely labeled "purchasing commissions," which have been sent to the Balkans to round up food for hungry nazis are running into unforeseen difficulties, says the Dallas News. A Berne dispatch to the New York Times reports that Rumanian and Bulgarian food distributors usually manage to be sold out when the commissions arrive and make only vague promises of delayed deliveries. They are also wary of Germany's paper money, supposedly secured by gold the nazis have stolen from Balkan banks and still hold.

One governmental hurdle placed in the way of the nazis is the refusal of the Rumanian and Bulgarian governments to allow big sales of valuable foods to foreigners in exchange for dumped commodities, such as aspirin or cameras, which are not needed and cannot be sold. At present, Bulgaria is making large exports only to Turkey, because that country is able and willing to exchange commodities that the Bulgarians can use.

This stiffening attitude of two of the Balkan nations toward the nazis is a welcome sign that, in spite of propaganada and censorship, some of the "protected" peoples are able to see the handwriting on the wall and are beginning to assert themselves against tyranny from Berlin. If the Russians continue to hold their lines and the Allies continue their westward drive from Egypt, it seems likely that the United Nations soon will receive even better news from the Balkan region.

MORE ABOUT HESS.

For a year and a half the spectacular flight of Rudolph Hess to Scotland has been a favorite subject for guessing, but today the guesses are narrowing down to a theory that is becoming accepted as true, says the Dallas News. This is that Hess did not make the flight on his own hare-brained initiative, but went as an envoy of Hitler and bore peace terms aimed to induce England to join in a holy crusade against Russia or at least to neutralize England while the nazis attacked Russia.

In London the Daily Mail quotes Sir Patrick Dollan, former Lord Provost (Mayor) of Glasgow, as saying that Hess came with Hitler's authority and proposed that England get out of the war, return Germany's former colonies and become virtually a German protectorate. England, under this proposal, would have had to surrender her military, naval and air strength and to consent to naiz rule over the continent of Europe.

Confirmation of this view comes from Frederick Oechsner, an American who, at the time of the Hess flight, was in Berlin as Central European manager of the United Press. In his new book, This Is the Enemy, Mr. Oechsner writes that "it seems definite by now that Hess left Germany with Hitler's knowledge, to tell the British that the nazis were going to attack Russia and to urge them to join in his 'holy war' against Bolshevism. The platform? Why, naturally: 'Europe and colonies to the nazis; to Britain her empire.' Hess' flight ended in a glare of publicity which would certainly have wrecked the above mission, and he was hurriedly disavowed by Germany."

At any rate, Hess did not find the British the softies for which he mistook them. In his isolated internment, he has plenty of time to meditate on his error and to prepare for the reckoning which he and the other nazi war lords eventually must face.

Cotton Quota Election Set For Dec. 12

Secretary of Agriculture Claud R. Wickard announced Monday that a referendum will be held among the cotton growers of the country Saturday, December 12, for approval of cotton marketing quotas for the 1943-44 marketing season, announced Monday by the Secretary.

If more than two thirds of the voters approve, quotas will be effective for the 1943 crop. Cotton growers have approved marketing quotas each of the last five years. Last year 94 per cent of the producers who voted in the referendum approved quotas.

The Secretary said that cotton marketing quotas are especially important during wartime because they hold the marketing of cotton in line with demand, and thus prevent overexpansion of cotton acreage which would result in an insufficient production of other badly needed commodities.

"The nation's supplies of man power, machinery, chemicals and transportation and storage facilities are expected to be considerably tighter next year, and we must use these things to produce and market only crops that are urgently needed in the war effort," the Secretary said.

The nation already has nearly a two -year supply of cotton on hand, but a larger than usual part of this supply is composed of the shorter staples and lower grades. The Department of Agriculture has asked farmers, wherever practicable, to switch to production of the longer staple varieties, which are needed for the manufacture of many essential military items, and to increase production of such war crops as peanuts and soybeans.

U. S. Drive In Africa Exceeds Expectations

BULLETINS.

The campaign in North Africa is the second front, says Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, the campaign proceeding beyond all expectations. President Roosevelt is the author of the Second Front, Prime Minister Winston Churchill said in London. When the occupation of North Africa by the Americans began, President Roosevelt told Spain and Portugal this nation had no designs on their African possessions and Satisfactory replies have been received from those two nations. Three of the four airfields at Oran have been occupied by the Americans, who have taken the water reservoir at Casa Blanca. The Americans are racing toward Tunisia. East of Algiers, with reports indicating they have already crossed the border.

A British submarine reached its home port, reporting that Allied submarines have sunk forty nazi submarines, and that it had sunk 60,000 tons of enemy shipping in recent weeks.

American forces outnumber the Japanese on Guadalcanal Island, it has been made known. The Americans are making progress in forcing the Japanese back and are successfully defending Henderson airfield. In that area 310 Japanese planes and sixty-two American planes have been destroyed.

The Russians have seized the initiative in the Central Caucasus and are carrying the fight to the enemy. The Russians are smashing all axis attempts in the city of Stalingrad, the German attacks in that city diminishing in intensity.

American forces, who made several landings in Africa the past week-end, are using blitzkrieg tactics in taking possession of key points. Algiers is in possession of the Allies, Oran is surrounded and key towns in Casablanca are captured. The motorized drive is heading eastward into Tunisia to smash Rommel's Libyan forces in the desert. President Roosevelt has asked Tunisian authorities for passage for American trops. Tunisia, adjoining Algeria, is only 140 miles wide, and a drive through that territory would be aimed at Tripoli, the main Axis base in Libya. The push would be aided by U. S. and British planes operating from captured airfields in Algeria.

Vichy said Tunisian authorities were preparing feverishly to fight the Allied troops, but there was no confirmation of this.

British officials said advanced motorized elements of the American forces "may well be across the frontier' of Tunisia.

The United States Expeditionary Forces in Morocco were reported to have launched a tank-supported general attack on the eastern side of Casablanca.

United States Flying Fortress and Liberator bombers flew 250 miles through swarms of German fighters and antiaircraft barrages Monday afternoon to blast the Nazi U-boat base of St. Nazaire in occupied France.

Three planes were lost in this longest operational flight yet undertaken by American airmen, but many hits were made on the docks, the announcemnt said.

The White House revealed that part of the indomitable and massive American force would strike Eastward toward the area where Marshal Erwin Rommel's battered German army is fleeing from the British.

Lt. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced Monday night that Gen. Henri Giraud, French General who escaped from German prison camps both in the last war and in this one, had arrived in Algeria to "organize a French North African army and again take up arms side by side with forces of the United Nations for the defeat of Germany and Italy."

The arrival of the famous French General was expected to "bring about a cessation of the scattered resistance," the Allied submarine commander said.

47,208 New Workers In Dallas Area

From January to November 6, 1942, a total of 57,208 new workers entered employment in the Dallas area of the Social Security Board. The area includes the counties of Grayson, Cooke, Collin, Dneton, Rockwall, Ellis, Kaufman and Dallas. These figures are based on the number on new social security account numbers issued by the Dallas office of the Board, according to a statement by Ernest L. Tutt, Manager.

The great majority of the new account numbers were issued to workers in defense plants in and near Dallas. However, it was explained, this number does not represent the total of new employees in defense plants since many workers employed already had account numbers.

In addition to the issuance of almost 48,000 account numbers to new employees within the ten-month period, Mr. Tutt's office issued a total of 15,923 duplicate account number cards to workers who, through carelessness or by accident ,had lost their original cards.

It costs the Social Security Board more to issue duplicate account number cards than to issue original cards since the application for duplicate number must be carefully checked against the original records. This action is necessary to insure that all wages received by the individual be posted to the same account. Workers should realize the importance of their account number cards and avoid misplacing them because it costs the Government time and money to replace them. In addition, it causes many workers to lose time that is greatly needed in the war effort.

Mr. Tutt asked each worker to show his social security account number to each employer for whom he works, regardless of the length of time during which he is employed. He also emphasized the fact that the more a wage earner receives in wages the more his insurance checks will be when he retires, or when his survivors file a claim in the event of his death.

The Dallas office has issued the largest number of account numbers of any Social Security Board office in Region Ten, Mr. Tutt said. Region Ten includes the states of Louisiana, Texas and New Mexico, and the regional office which has been located at San Antonio for six years will move to Dallas within a few weeks.

The three largest offices of the Board are located at New Orleans, Houston and Dallas. For the period January to October 16, 1942, the original account numbers issued by these three largest offices totaled 38,141 for Houston, 40,860 for New Orleans, and 43,005 for Dallas. Original and duplicate account numbers combined for these three largest ofices, to October 16, 1942, totaled 55,184 for Houston, 53,207 for New Orleans, and 58,592 for Dallas.

Navy Is Offering Men Chance To Become Officers

The Navy is offering Texans who already have graduated from colleges, or who are pursuing courses leading to a degree, their finest opportunity to become officers, Lieutenant H. P. McBride, in charge of the Dallas branch of the Office of Naval Oficer Procurement, said today.

Thirty days of indoctrinal training are necessary after enlistment. Applicants then are apointed Reserve Midshipmen and sent to school fro three months additional duty, leading to their commissioning as ensigns in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Two classifications are open. Lieutenant McBride pointed out. In class V-7(S) requirements have been relaxed to some extent.

For general service under the V-7 program, applicants must meet physical requirements heretofore outlined, but a special service classification has been set up under which applicants may be a minimum of five feet, four inches; have 12-20 vision correctable to 20-20; have minimum weight of 124 pounds in proportion to height and with deficient color perception permissible.

Full time juniors and seniors in recognized schools whose curriculum is directed towards a degree in the following subjects may qualify: engineering, bachelor of science, arts, education, philosophy, business administration, commercial science, journalism or laws.

Undergraduates accepted must be unmarried. Men who have completed their scholastic training, however, and are married are eligible for appointment.

Applicants may apply immediately to their nearest Navy recruiting station or the Dallas Office of Naval Oficer Procurement, 1530 Allen Building. If the applicant is under 21, consent of his parents or guardians must be obtained in writing.

More Reading Is Predicted With Gas Rationing

With a cold winter ahead and a college browsing room full of good books, North Texas State Teachers College librarians predict that Rhett Butler and Ivanhoe may be giving college "wolves" a run for their money, while Scarlett O'Hara and Lady Rowena deal the co-eds plenty of competition.

An even greater increase in popularity is expected when gas rationing goes into effect and there is less student travel. Furthermore, students may go there to rest, read, or browse—and save dimes for war stamps.

Besides fiction, the browsing room features shelves of drama, poetry, non-fiction, short stories, mystery and detective novels. The defense collection, an innovation of last summer, has grown steadily since its institution. Two shelves of latest books on phases of defense and pamphlets from government departments and colleges give a complete coverage of the war situation.

Fall Musical Season To Open At Denton School

Opening fall musical events at North Texas State Teachers College, the 80-piece NTSTC Symphony Orchestra directed by Floyd Graham will present a concert Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the college main auditorium.

The all-American program will include Howard Hanson's Symphony No. 2, the "Romantic" Symphony, which was composed for the fiftieth anniversary of the Boston Symphony and first performed in 1930. Richard Smittle of the North Texas State faculty will be soloist for "The Winter's Passed," a rhapsody for oboe and strings which is based on two Carolina mountain folk songs. Wayne Barlow composed the work in 1938.

Final presentation on the NTSTC symphonic program will be Ferde Grote's "Grand Canyon Suite," including Sunrise, Painted Desert, On the Trail, Sunset, and Cloudiness.

The NTSTC Symphony this season includes complete instrumentation and the largest personnel in its history, with students representing 35 towns and 6 states in the group. The Sunday program will be sponsored by the North Texas State Chapter of Pi Mu Alpha Sinfonia.

Navy Seeking Voluntary Enlistments

Spiking all rumors to the effect that voluntary enlistments in the Navy soon will be halted, Lieut. L. H. Ridout, Jr., officer in charge of the North Texas Naval recruiting district, says that November is expected to be another banner month for enlistments, and called on every citizen in this area to co-operate in recruiting additional men and boys for our vast two-ocean Navy.

The Dallas district enjoyed its third biggest month in history, with enlistments totaling 2,763 during October, Lieut. Ridout said.

"The Navy needs men, and needs them urgently," Lieut. Ridout pointed out. "We can still take men as volunteers up to the time of their actual induction into any other branch of the service. Applicants for the Navy can stil join if they are 3-A or 1-A."

The Navy's overseas construction battalions, known as the Seabees, have been thrown wide open for enlistments, and ratings now are available to almost every man between the ages of 17 and 50 with experience in a construction trade. Interviews to Seabees applicants were to be granted at the Dallas station only seven days this month, Nov. 2, 3, and 4, and Nov. 17, 18, 19 and 20, Lieut. Ridout warned. Applicants must first report for a physical exam, bringing with them two letters from responsible persons, listing their experience in their respective trades.

For the month of October, the total Navy enlistment figure in Sherman recruiting district was 122, as compared with its quota of 188.

Debt Is Paid With Interest, After 52 Years

Mrs. Jennie Hansel of Ottumwa, Iowa, has finally paid her $50 debt to Jake Bergerman, plus $100 interest, after 52 years.

Mrs. Hansel said Mr. Bergerman loaned her the $50 at Kokomo, Colorado, now a ghost mining town, so she could return to her home in the East, where her Mother was ill.

Years later Mrs. Hansel learned Mr. Bergerman was in business at Leadville, Colorado. She wrote there, but Mr. Bergerman had moved to Salt Lake City.

Another letter brought the information Mr. Bergerman had died. Finally she wrote to his widow, but she also had passed away.

Then Mrs. Hensel learned there was a surviving daughter, Mrs. Sadie Bergerman of Salt Lake City, and so the debt was paid.

Opportunity For Men In The U. S. Army Air Forces

Exceptional opportunity in the Army Air Forces for men 18 and 19 years of age was described by Major C. J. Wall, Personnel Officer of Perrin Field.

"The Air Force recognizes the alertness of young men," Major Wall said. "Men under voting age are quick to learn new assignments. They are physically fit, and the very fact that they have not become trained in a single skill makes them easy to train in any of the duties of the Air Forces.

"Enlistment of men 18 and 19 years old carries with it an advantage to the Air Force and to the men themselves; for as the Air Force finds them exceptionally valuable, so do the men in advancement that matches their qualifications."

Because of the value of young men to the service, Major Wall said, particular emphasis is now being given at Perrin Field to the enlistment of young men. Men enlisted, he said, will have every opportunity to advance to higher non-commissioned ranks, and many of them can expect to be sent to Officers Candidate Schools after a few months of service as enlisted men.

"Those duties that require quick learning and physical stamina are jobs for young men," Major Wall said. "Perrin Field now has opened its recruiting office to young men who may enlist as ground crew technicians or for general service with the Army Air Forces."

John Tarleton Amendment Gets Favorable Vote

The favorable vote on the constitutional amendment authorizing payment for an already constructed building at John Tarleton Agricultural College was further increased Monday on compilation of additional votes on the five proposed amendments.

More than 22,500 votes from Harris County and returns from five other smaller counties not previously reported was included in the report, which included returns from 226 of the 254 counties, including 154 complete.

It is believed the John Tarleton appropriation amendment will carry, but that the favorable vote will be cut down by later returns. Less than 15,000 votes are believed unaccounted for.

The votes against the amendment authorizing a $2,000,000 bond issue for a state office building was slightly reduced in Monday's report, but this amendment appeared likely to be defeated.

The report follows:

Placing state on pay-as-you-go basis: For 83,572, against 61,570.

John Tarleton appropriation: For 77,796, against 69,971.

Authorizing state pay for military instructors in state-supported institutions of higher education: For 65,620, against 79,042.

Authorizing county courts with probate jurisdiction in counties of 200,000 or more population: For 63,067, against 79,675.

Harris County voted favorably on all five amendments.

Razors Rationed To Make Knives For Axis Throats

The War Production Board cut off safety razor manufacture for civilian use and placed all razors and blades under strict restrictions Wednesday, but the nation's men folks were assured there's no need to start bristling up.

In the first place, the WPB predicted that there would be blades for everybody in civilian life in 1943, since millions of the men are in uniform.

And besides, even if worst came to worst, the average American male could whistle happily through his whiskers with the assurance that the 800-odd tons of high-grade steel to be saved by the shutdown would go into such things as commando knives.

The order specifically stated that safety razors now may be

Navy Wants Men With Experience In Radio Work

The United States Navy has issued an appeal for men with experience in radio work, according to Russell W. Bryant, recruiter in charge of the Sherman Navy recruiting district. Ratings as high as second-class petty officer are available for men who can qualify. Men who are accepted will be sent to Navy radio schools for eight months training, covering all phases of radio operation and maintenance, and upon completion of the course of study may be recommended for first-class or chief petty officer.

Men with professional or amateur experience in radio repair, amateur operators, and broadcasting station employees are especially needed.

ing men, (2) for export and (3) for lease-lend purposes. Straight razor production was sharply curtailed for November and December, and will be halted entirely January 1, when the manufacturers start turning out those cutting little numbers to tickle the axis' throats.

portunity to serve their country at a good rate of pay as well as receive training which will be of much value to them when they return to civilian life. Age limits are 17 to 50 years.

An examination for knowledge of radio is given by the local recruiting officer and the rating at which the applicant is to be enlisted is assigned before application papers are made out. This examination can be taken at the Navy recruiting station in the basement of the federal building at Sherman any day in the week or at the McKinney post office each Tuesday, Gainesville "Victory House" each Wednesday, Denison post office each Thursday and Denton post office each Saturday.

ARMY WIFE GIVES ADVICE TO MATES OF U. S. SOLDIER.

MRS. BEATRICE PATTON, who is seeing her husband, Maj. Gen. George Smith Patton through his third war, has ten bits of advice for wives of army and navy men fighting overseas, says Ruth Cowan, noted writer.

The former Beatrice Ayer of Boston has developed a witty philosophy, tempered by twenty-five major changes in her home address as the helpmate for thirty-two years of a man who made soldiering his profession and who now is commanding the American froces on the West Coast of Africa.

"I took the other two wars pretty hard," she said, referring to the Mexican campaign against Pancho Villa in which her husband was aide to General Pershing and the first World War in which he organized and commanded the first U. S. tank.

"One of the hardest things women have to bear in wartime is waiting," she said, recalling that when her husband came home from France in 1919 "he had been grievously wounded, but when he returned he was in fine shape, but I was not."

"I had practically lost my health," she said, and that prompted her to draw up the following ten-point regime.

1. Don't worry. Look on the bright side, smile, and if things are piling up and you can't see your way clear, try praying.
2. Keep healthy.
3. Write cheerful letters to your fighting men. You cannot ask advice from a man in Libya or Australia. The problems will be out of date by the time he gets your letters.
4. Never listen to rumors, and never, never repeat one. (She added here that one of the finest things she had heard of lately was the Boston Herald's rumor clinic which seeks to run rumors to ground.)
5. Don't stop at the headlines when you read the paper. Buy a reliable newspaper and read the official communiques and consult a map.
6. Don't turn on the radio every time you come in the house. Set yourself a stated time to listen to it.
7. Get yourself a regular job of war work, outside the home, even if its only two hours a week.
8. Realize you are not the only one whose husband is away at war. Don't feel sorry for yourself.
9. When the fighting man is are fighting for, their homes.

GET CAPTURED SOMEWHERE ELSE; WE HAVEN'T TIME.

HERE'S AN IDEA OF JUST how fast the desert battle is going.

A dispatch from an advance air base says a large party of Germans asked RAF men to take them prisoners there. But they were told the men of the RAF were too busy. One RAF officer is quoted as telling the surrendering Axis forces: "Run off and get yourself captured by somebody with more time to spare."

In some cases, the RAF has been ready to operate its own planes from one of the captured advance air bases a few hours after taking it. Italian and German troops have been found wandering around at some of the bases, practically pleading for someone to imprison them so they can be fed and have a place to rest.

Erwin L. Cage Of U. S. Navy Is Lion Club Speaker

Erwin L. Cage, Chief Boatswain Mate of the United States Navy, who was on the Aircraft Carrier Wasp when it was sunk in the Pacific, addressed the McKinney Lions Club Wednesday noon. His experience, which reads more like a story from the Horatio Alger series, proved interesting to the Lions. He has crossed the Equator eight times, has traveled around the world, spent three years in China and has visited all the countries of Europe, Africa and Sidney Australia.

He was on the .U S. S. Arizona for a year and was in iceland two years ago. He was on the Wasp when the carrier was carrying planes to Malta in the Mediterranean and was on the Raleigh on a trip to Europe in 1928. In his address to the Lions Club, he gave a vivid description of the Coral Sea battle. He was on the ship for one and one-half hours while it was listing after being hit, lowering the wounded and otherwise rendering help. The survivors were picked up by boats of destroyers. He has been in the service for seventeen years and boasts many medals. He is a Gold Honor man, boasting a 100 per cent record in the Navy.

Mr. Cage is a native of Collin County, Mrs. E. L. Cage his Mother, living Southeast of McKinney. His wife is here with him and will return to Norfolk, Virginia, while he returns to duty at San Diego. His wife's Mother is Mrs. Nannie Lewis of this city.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Ben Snider observed their olden Wedding anniversary at their home on North Coleman St. Friday, November 6. No celebration was planned for the occasion, however, Rev. and Mrs. Snider received messages of congratulations throughout the day.

Both are members of pioneer Collin County families who have continued to be prominent in the affairs of our county. Mrs. Snider is the former Miss Gertrude Brown, and the wedding of fifty years ago took place at the church at Forest Grove, with the late Eld. Ben Faulkner, pioneer Christian minister of the county, officiating. The occasion was a double wedding. John Clark and Miss Epha Blakeman, being the other couple who were united in marriage at the same time. Mr. Clark has passed on and his widow is now making her home in Dallas.

Rev. Snider has been engaged in the ministry since early manhood, having held a number of pastorates in this county and other points. He is beloved not only by the members of the Baptist denomination but by every acquaintance and up until about five years ago was actively engaged in preaching. For the past few years he has been retired from active duty, due to ill health, however he is feeling much better now, and is able to be up most of the time.

Rev. and Mrs. Snider are the parents of two sons, H. L. Snider of Fort Worth and Hester Snider of McKinney, and they have three fine young grandsons, Billy and Joe Ben Snider of this city and H. L. Snider, Jr., of Fort Worth. They are a Christian couple, whose lives have been examples for their children and friends, and they are beloved by all who know them. We join with their multitude of other friends in extending congratulations upon having reached their fiftieth anniversary and wish them many more years of happiness and wedded bliss.

Attention, Cotton Loan Holders

The Presidents Stabilization act, which went into effect several weeks ago, raised the loan rate on cotton one cent per pound. County Agricultural Agent Jack McCullough says if your 1942 cotton was already in the loan before the Act, producers will get the benefit of the one cent per pound advance. It's an automatic increase and will be sent to you direct from the Commodity Credit Corporation. Forms which are to be filled out will be sent to the producers direct from the C. C. C. office.

Motorists Must Register For Gas Rationing

Collin County motorists, registering for basic mileage rations at school house registration sites November 19, 20, and 21 must take along their application forms, listing serial numbers of their tires, and their car registration cards, Elton Riggs, Chairman of the Collin County War Price and Rationing Board, said today.

Mr. Riggs announced that local school authorities have arranged for registration to take place in 17 schools on the three days from 8:30 a. m. until 5 p. m.

"The application forms are now available at service stations, garages and other conveniently located places throughout the county and should be picked up at once by any owner of a passenger car or motorcycle who does not already have one," Mr. Riggs said.

"This form is simple. Most of the information can be obtained from your 1942 License Receipt, which must be presented to the registrar at the school. The most important information needed to fill out the application, however, is the list of serial numbers on every tire which you or any relative living in your house for that vehicle."

The serial numbers, are the indented numbers on the tire walls. They are not to be confused with any raised numbers appearing on the tires. In case the serial numbers have been obliterated, only the branch name of the tire need be listed.

The rationing board chairman urged car owners with more than five tires for each vehicle to dispose of these excess tires at once, since the school houses ragistrar cannot issue a mileage ration book to any applicant who iists more than five tires. Excess tires can be sold to the Government through the local office of the Railway Express Agency.

"Only basic ration books will be issued by the school house registrars," Mr. Riggs said. "Motorists with car registration cards and properly filled out application forms will be issued "A" books providing for 240 miles of driving a month. Motorcycle owners will get "D" books, food for similar mileage.

"No supplemental rations will be issued at this registration time. So don't ask the registrar for any. However, anyone who feels he will need more mileage than the basic provides may ask the reigstrar for an application form for a supplemental ration.

"This form is to be filled out later and presented to a local war price and rationing board. The board will issue a supplemental ration only after a careful examination of the applicant's need for additional mileage and his plans for car sharing."

Applicants for basic rations should go to the school house registration site nearest their homes. The schools to be used for registration are:

Anna, Westminster, Blue Ridge, Farmersville, Nevada, Wylie, Plano, Allen, Frisco, Prosper, Celina, Princeton, Melissa, Josehine, McKinney Senior High School, Junior High School, Colored School.)

Large Amount Of Liqour Taken On Collin Highways

The months of September and October proved busy ones for Sheriff W. E. Button and his deputies, particularly in the liquor law enforcement. Pints, 2,551.

Four-fifths Quarts, 251.
Gallons, 8.

In addition, Sheriff Button has on hand approximately fifty cases of liquor not yet turned over to the Liquor Control Board.

More than twenty cars have been confiscated, many for which have been sold at public auction. In an advertisement elsewhere in Friday's Daily Courier-Gazette, Sheriff Button is advertising three of these confiscated cars for sale Saturday, of this week, November 7, and three cars for sale Saturday, November 14.

The liquor thus confiscated is turned over to the State Liquor Control Board of Dallas, which is sold the highest bidder and the money given to the Old Age Pension Fund. The Money from the cars sold at public auction, after costs are deducted, is turned over to the same fund.

The fines paid the county by those apprehended will average about $200.00 per person, says Sheriff Button.

FUEL RATIONING HINTS FOR SCHOOL TEACHERS RECEIVED BY PRICE, RATIONING BOARD

Fuel rationing instructions to be followed by school teachers who will serve as registrars November 12, 13, and 14 were received by the Collin County War Price and Rationing Board, Elton Riggs, Chairman of the Collin County Board, says that the instruction guide will be distributed to teachers as rapidly as possible.

Schol superintendents and principals in the county will meet with teachers within the next few days to review these instructions so they will be prepared to carry out the task of registering motorists in Collin County, for basic mileage ration books.

Mr. Riggs emphasized that each passenger car and motorcycle owner should obtain a rationing application blank at a tire inspection station before registration begins and fill out that blank listing the serial numbers of the tires on each such vehicle.

These are the steps which the registrar at the schoolhouse follows upon receiving an application for a basic "A" gasoline ration book for a passenger car or a motorcycle.

1. Determines that the application is properly filled out and signed by the registered owner; determines that the applicant now has a motor vehicle registration card and that the vehicle described on the registration card is the same as that specified in the application. Care also should be taken that the space for the serial number of tires are filled in and that serial numbers on the applications are the same as those on the tire inspection record attached.

2. If examination of the application and tire inspection record shows that the applicant has not sold to the Government through the Railway Express Agency all passenger-type tires in excess of five for the vehicle, then the application for basic "A" ration is denied.

3. If the application is found to be in proper form, then the registrar issues a basic "A" gasoline ration book and an "A" sticker if the vehicle is a passenger car. If the vehicle is a motorcycle, then the registrar issues a "D" gasoline ration book. The registrar also should detach the tire inspection record from the application and return it to the applicant together with the motor vehicle registration card, the basic gasoline ration book and the instruction pamphlet.

4. The registrar also should tell the applicant at the time of registration that before January 31 the tires on the vehicles must be inspected and thereafter, inspection is required every two months for holders of supplemental ration "B" and "C" books and every four months for basic "A" book holders.

5. If an applicant wants to obtain a supplemental gasoline ration, he should ask the registrar at the time of registration for the proper application blank. This should be filled out afterward and mailed or delivered directly to the local War Price and Rationing Board and should not be given to the registrar at the schoolhouse.

Glass Jars Get New War Dress

One of the war-time changes homemakers can expect soon is a new top-knot for the mason jar, a fixture in the home canning business. WPB recently prohibited the use of zinc in making lids for glass containers and this means that the old mason jar soon will wear a new cap.

The USDA Bureau of Home Economics is working on a new lid. Meanwhile, says Miss Winifred Jones of the A. and M. College Extension Service, homemakers can obtain porcelain closures with rims which give a secure seal and which are currently used as substitutes for zinc jar tops. In addition to the order prohibiting the use of zinc, a new WPB regulation is expected limiting the types of jars for home canning.

Miss Jones, who is specialist in food preservation, explains that the government is interested in farm families having an adequate food supply and will do everything possible to assure stocks of proper food containers.

Proper containers are necessary to quality canned foods. For example, pickles are better in glass, fruits are just as good in glass, while meats and most vegetables should be canned in tin. The specialist says there are three kinds of tin. Plain tin is most common and is used for most meats and many vegetables. Corn, peas, chicken, and fish are better in C enamel. R enamel is used for red foods, such as beets and berries, and for pumpkin and squash.

Vacuum seal pars in which certain brands of coffee are sold are suitable for canned fruits and some kinds of vegetables. Miss Jones does not advise their use for canned meats, however.

Contrary to such rumors, he said, the Army is conducting an intensive drive for volunteers in several categories, particularly among 18 and 19-year-old men.

In addition, the Army is seeking qualified technicians for many kinds of service with the air forces. Signal Corps and other branches. Men also are wanted for the engineer unit training center at Camp Claiborne, La.

Tree Nuts Will Be Victory Food Special

English walnuts almonds, filberts, pecans and other domestic tree nuts will be the Victory Food Special for the period November 9 through 21, the Agricultural Marketing Administration says.

Total quantity of domestic tree nuts available this season will exceed 300 million pounds of unshelled nuts. This year's production added to supplies carried over from last year brings the total stock to a near record level.

Local merchants will feature tree nuts and homemakers are urged to make nuts part of their menu rather than a supplement. By using the abundant supply of tree nuts, other less abundant food can be released for the armed forces.

ELEPHANTS DO DOUBLE DUTY

When Dailey Bros. Three Ring Circus comes to McKinney for two performances Saturday, November 14, the big beasts will help men erect the city of tents and later will be star actors.

THREE RING CIRCUS WILL SHOW IN CITY SATURDAY

Daily Bros. Three Ring Circus, Texas Institution, Will Show In McKinney For The First Time.

Arrangements have been made for the coming of the first three ring circus to exhibit in McKinney for several years, and it will probably be the last circus to exhibit here until after the duration. Dailey Bros. Three Ring Circus will be the attraction and the date will be Saturday Nov. 14. The city of tents will be erected on East Greenville Street.

There are fewer shows on the road this season on account of the draft, but those that are operating report the biggest attendance they have had in five years. This proves that the government's action in giving the green signal to the legitimate amusements, including the circus, to go ahead is approved by the public.

Dailey Bros. Three Ring Circus is a Texas institution with permanent quarters at Yoakum, Texas, but it tours about fifteen states annually. On its return trip from the states of the Northwest the show is including McKinney on its route, for its first visit to this city.

The circus is one form of amusement that has never required a censor and it is also one that seems to retain its popularity under all conditions, since it appeals to all sorts and conditions of peope. The Dailey Circus will be found to live up to true American Circus tradition.

"The Collin County National Bank Has Helped Me Often!"

I worked hard and saved my money but sometimes a fellow gets in a pinch and he's just got to have help from the outside. To me, borrowing only meant getting deeper in debt but I learned a new story while talking to Ned, who owns the most prosperous farm in the county. "How do I do it?" he repeated. "How does anyone manage to get ahead these days? I borrow from Collin County National Bank . . . no red tape and friendly people to deal with." I investigated and have been dealing with them ever since! Why don't you talk things over with them?

Women's Defense Unit Gets Taste Of Canteen Work

The Women's Defense Unit, of which Mrs. Karl Talkington is Captain, got a taste of real canteen work Tuesday night when they served "chow" to the Home Defense Guard. The meal was served in the cafeteria of the Boyd High School at 9:30 o'clock, about a hundred enjoying the affair. The canteen was set up according to Red Cross regulations and the cafeteria was secured from City Superintendent Jack R. Ryan in compliance with the Government request that all Public Utilities cooperate with the Red Cross on such occasions.

The Defense Unit and several ladies of the city have been taking a special course in Canteen the past week under the direction of Mrs. Arvilla Patison, Home Economist for the Community Natural Gas Company. The course will close Thursday night of this week, and all those who have been in the class have thoroughly enjoyed the instruction given by Mrs. Patison.

Before setting up the canteen for Tuesday night, the menu was prepared so that a nutritious and balanced meal could be prepared and served quickly and easily. On this ocacsion the "chow" consisted of vegetable and beef stew, slaw, bread and butter sandwiches, fruit cookies and coffee. The ladies were divided into units of purchasing committee, cooks, housekeepers and waitresses. Mrs. Eddie Runnion, a Corporal in the Defense unit, was named General Chairman of the canteen, and Mrs. Charles Walters was in charge of the preparation of food. Each unit clicked perfectly and the menu was prepared, cooked, served and eaten within two hours, which is a record. The Community Natural Gas Company of which Hal Dyer is local manager, furnished the food for the canteen and all present at the enjoyable affair are most grateful to this company for their generosity.

Besides the members of the Defense Guard and the Women's Defense Unit, several special guests were also present. Concluding the delightful affair, Capt. Talkington expressed appreciation to the Community Natural Gas Company for making the Canteen possible and presented Mrs. Patison who has capably and most effectively conducted the course. Lieut. Paul Wilson expressed thanks in behalf of the Home Guard and visitors for the meal.

Mayor Perkins Has Letter From Friend In Navy

Mayor Tom W. Perkins is in receipt of an interesting letter from his fine young friend, J. L. Enloe, S. G. who is in the Great Lakes Training Station at Camp Green Bay, in Illinois. The letter is a follows:

"Dear Mr. Perkins:

"At last I find time to write you a few lines of Navy. A lot of the fellows are working hard to get a petty officer rating. As for me I had rather be back on old East fork punching baby bulls around than to be commander in chief of the Pacific fleet. Now don't get the idea I am not patriotic. Its just that I want to get this thing over and get back home. A guy can't live in good old Collin County, Texas, for thirty years without getting an awful strong feeling about the place and the folk who live there.

"The Navy has been treating me pretty good since I arrived here September 5, but the home town and everything around sure did look good while I was there on leave a few days in October. The beans are green and the meat fat. I got stuck on the Navy for that.

"For the past ten days the doctors at the hospital have been trying to find my voice which I lost a few days back. So far they have not had any luck and now I am just sleeping and eating, with hospital care.

"Just a few words about my duties. I am what they call Seaman Guard. We patrol the camp, keep the gates and believe me it gets cold up here. There was a thin sheet of ice on the ground this a. m. We stand watch for four hours then we are off eight hours for two shifts, then we get 48 hour leave to any place we like. After we are here for 60 days we become Commandoes. That's what a guy gets for being big, rugged and weather beaten.

"Will write you again as soon as I am assigned to sea duty.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN L. ENLOE, S. G. Camp Green Bay, Great, Lakes, Ill."

Pension Total Declines After October Peak

Pensions received by those on the old-age pension rolls reached a peak, $3,708,631 in November, the State Department of Public Welfare said. The decrease was attributed to lack of funds, which necessitated proration beginning with the November checks. The rolls continued to increase during October, changing from 180,291 to 181,554 pensioners, a net gain of 1,263. The average check for November is $19.84, 73c less than the October average.

The welfare department also announced that future old-age pension checks will be mailed over a period of eight days, beginning about the fifth of each month. This change from the four-day mailing period was made because the State Treasurer is having dificulty in handling the volume of work caused by mailing a large number of checks each day.

Strike Ends At McKinney U. S. Hospital

(Dallas News.)

W. G. Reid of the Reid-Kane Construction Company, one of the prime contractors for the $3,000,000 United States Army general hospital under construction in McKinney, announced Wednesday that carpenters had returned to work on the project and work had resumed its normal course.

Certification of carpenters to the McKinney project by the Dallas union followed instructions from John P. Coyne, President of the International Building and Construction Trades Council, wired from Washington, D. C.

Mr. Reid said the hospital is being built under three prime contracts and that it is one of these principal contractors who is operating under an open shop basis. He has no sub-contractors who are employing other than union labor, he said.

Back To God And His Word

By J. L. Pummill

John, 1:1-5, In the beginning was the word, and the word was with God, and the word was God. The same as in the beginning with God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made. In him was life; and the life was the light of men.

Verse, 14 And the word was made flesh and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father) full of grace and truth.

When turns his back on the word of God, or looks lightly on the God and his word he also turns his back on Christ, and the Holy Spirit.

For one to say there is no power in the word of God, is to say that there is no power in God, Christ or the Holy Spirit.

Under the Law given through Moses, God dealt directly with the Jews. They rejected God and his word. Then Jesus came into the world with a message of salvation for all mankind. The Jews rejected him, not only refusing to hear him, but they blasphemed Him, in that they accused Him of casting out devils by the prince of devils. Jesus told them that all manner of blasphemy would be forgiven, but the basphemy against the Holy Spirit.

When Jesus was preparing to leave the world, He told his disciples that when he went away he would send the comforter, the Holy Spirit to guide them into all truth. John. 16:13. We understand from this that when Jesus went away the Spirit would come to guide the apostles. God had a message for the world; salvation from sin. This message was to be brought by men (Apostles). God did not want any mistakes made, (man is subject to mistakes), so he promised to send the Holy Spirit to keep them from making mistakes. Jesus told them to tarry in Jerusalem until the power (Holy Spirit) come. When the Holy Spirit came as we read in Acts, chapter 2:1-14. The apostles begin to speak as the Spirit gave them power. What did they preach? The word of God. Paul, in Hebrews, 4:12. Said, the word of God, is quick, and powerful and sharper than a two-edged sword, piercing even to dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of joints and marrow, and is a desrner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

The reason there is so much power in the word of God, is God Christ and the Holy Spirit are all behind it.

In John, 17:14, 17. While Jesus was right in the shadow of the cross when he was praying for his disciples, He said I have given them thy word; and was praying for his disciples, He said I have given them thy word; and the world hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. Sanctify them through thy truth; thy word is truth. When Jesus went away he sent the Spirit to guide in teaching his word.

The reason the world is in the chaotic condition it is in the people have done like the Israelites did when God called Moses up into the mount to derive the law unto him. They had instructions how to act until Moses came back, But they turned their backs on God and his word. Ask Aaron to give them something to worship. Aaron told them to bring them their gold and he would give them something they wanted. He made them a golden calf to worship, They said, these are thy Gods O Israel that brought thee out of Egypt. Aaron built an altar before it so they could make a sacrifice to it. They got into trouble and many of them perished because they turned their backs on God and his word. Second Timothy, 3:16, 17. Paul, said, All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, completely furnished unto every good work.

Let's all get our Bibles out, Say Lord, speak; thy servant will hear. Command, thy servant, will obey.

Then we will see the world begin to believe on the Christ, who gave his life that the world might be saved.

Two Amendments Are Due To Carry

Latest returns show that Texans apparently approved two proposed constitutional amendments, rejecting three.

In the win column were these changes:

Authorization to pay for a building at John Tarleton College, 44(279 votes to 43,799.

Retirement of the state's general funded ficit of $30,000,000 by bond issue and pay-as-you-go thereafter, 48,267 to 39,313.

Losing on the basic of returns so far, were these proposals:

To allow borrowing from the permanent school fund in the amount of $2,000,000, secured by bonds, to construct a state office building, 47,253 votes against and 41,074 for.

Probate jurisdiction in counties of 200,000 or more population, 50.743 against and 34,053 for.

Paying army and navy officers to be instructors in state-supported schools, 49,574 against and 36,409 for.

The bureau said no returns had been received from Harris and Tarrant Counties, where an estimated 52,000 votes could change the final results.

Senator W. Lee O'Daniel and Gov. Coke Stevenson were defeating their opponents by wide margins.

Boyce House To Give His Popular Tribute To Texas

Sunday, November 8, Boyce House the popular Texas newspaper and radio columnist, gave his famous "Tribute to Texas" on his radio program "I give You Texas and the Great Southwest." The "Tribute" has been given on the air before, and so many listeners have wanted to hear it again that Boyce House repeated it Sunday.

Listeners are invited to write in for a free Souvenir Copy of the humorously exaggerated "Tribute to Texas" which also contains a picture of Boyce House.

As usual, "I Give You Texas and the Great Southwest" is full of humor and human interest of the special brand that Southwestern folks seem to like best.

The program is sponsored by the makers of Justin Cowboy Boots and Justin Shoes and is heard at 12:45 noon Sunday over Stations KGKO, Fort Worth-Dallas, KTSA, San Antonio, and KXYZ, Houston.

Opportunity For Men To Enlist In U. S. Navy

"Men who desire to enlist in the United States Navy may still do so, and will continue to do so," Russell W. Bryant, recruiter in charge of the Sherman Navy recruiting district states. "The Navy has always depended on volunteers and will continue to do so because a powerful Navy can only be built on such a basis. A man who is forced to enter the Navy would be more dangerous to his shipmates than to the enemy," the recruiter said.

Men skilled in all kinds of trades and professions are needed in the Navy and will receive starting pay in keeping with their experience. Many men have enlisted at ratings that pay as high as $188 a month in addition to expenses, the recruiter pointed out. Men without a skilled trade will be taught one or more of the 49 trades used by the Navy. No promise can be made as to probable station, nor the trade that will be taught the unskilled applicant. Such assignments are made only after a test to determine the applicant's fitness for some specific type of work.

"A man who enlists in the Navy, either for fleet service or in the construction regiment, serves in the branch of the Navy for which he enlisted and is not transferred to some other branch of the armed froces," Mr. Bryant said. "Rumors that the Seabees are being inducted into the Marine Corps are circulating, buth these are without foundation. Some Seabees companies have probably been detailed to the Marine Corps, but they are still Seabees and are to construct bases for the Marines. Regardless of their assignment, they are still in the Navy construction regiment and are to do the kind of work for which they were enlisted."

J. F. Sims, Jr., of Frisco, recently enlisted in the Navy.

221 Democrats In The House

Unofficial tallies show the election of 221 Democrats and 208 Republicans to the House in Washington as a result of Tuesday's balloting with two contests undecided.

The new line-up in the Senate stood at fifty-seven Democrats and thirty-eight Republicans.

The latest House contest to be heard from was in the First District of Utah where a final unofficial count gave Representative Walter K. Granger, (Dem.) 36,430 votes for re-election to 35,947 for Bracken Lee (Rep.) There was a possibility that an official canvass November 30 might change the result.

The last Senate contest was decided when a final count gave James E. Murray (Dem.), seeking re-election to his Montana seat, a narrow margin of victory over Wellington D. Rankin (Rep.)

J. P. Cave renews his Weekly Democrat-Gazette to be sent to him at Route 4, Sherman, for the coming year.

Manley Cook and son, Clifton Lee, who are visiting here from Big Spring, and Miss Mary Jo Straughn, are attending the S. M U. and A. & M. football game in Dallas.

McKinney High Suffers Double Loss In Game

McKinney High Lions lost to Denton High 19-to-6 in a well played game at Newsome Field Friday night, but their greatest loss was the injury to George Woods, ace backfield star and mainstay of the team, who received a fractured left leg in the game. The injury came in the second quarter, when the Lions were on the defense. Woods was rushed to the McKinney City Hospital, where his injury was treated and where he is reported, Saturday, to be resting well.

The game was evenly fought despite the score and the half ended 6-to-6. However in the second half Denton ran across two touchdowns to win.

Denton scored first when Cromer went over from the 3, but McKinney evened the score folowing Carter's 47 yard run to the 17, McCurry's pass to Green to the 1, McCurry plunging over.

Denton scored in the third quarter, Waldrip going over from the three, and Martin passed to Cromer for the extra point. In the fourth, Waldrip went over standing up from the 12.

Direct Enlistment In Air Forces Is Now Restricted

Direct enlistment in the Army Air Forces at Perrin Field is now restricted to skilled radio men and mechanics and to 18 and 19 year old men, Major C. J. Wall, technician procurement officer at Perrin Field, announced.

Major Wall's announcement of the tightening of Perrin Field's recruiting lines was made as eight men from Collin County returned to the field from Camp Wolters for service.

They were Coen E. Thomas, Ernest E. Young, Winston R. Russell, Claude C. Crank, Jefferson P. Harris, Earl M. Kindle of McKinney; George R. Smith of Frisco; and J. A. Bowden of Farmersville.

Men with actual radio experience or experienced mechanics up to 50 years of age are still being accepted at Perrin Field, Major Wall said, while 18 and 19 year old men may enlist for general service with the Army Air Forces. He urged men in both groups to take advantage of this opportunity to enlist the Air Forces for work that would interest them.

Private Harold L. Stiff Is Training At Fort Worth

Son Of Mr. And Mrs. W. R. Stiff Of McKinney Recently Volunteers.

Private Harold L. Stiff, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Stiff of McKinney, has returned to Fort Worth, after a pleasant visit with relatives in this city. He volunteered in the air unit October 19 and this was his first visit home since his enlistment. He is with the 1017 School Squadron A. A. F., Flight Tarrant Field, Fort Worth.

He is only 19 years of age and is making good in the service of his country. He attended the McKinney High School. He is a fine young soldier and looks like the typical American soldier in his uniform.
